The teachers / researchers choose their teaching contents and methods, in line with the organisation of studies and in accordance with the educational objectives of the study programs and with the decisions and evaluations of the bodies responsible for the planning and coordination of educational activities.

5. Students, through their representatives in the University bodies, participate in the annual and multi-year programming of the University. Furthermore, they independently evaluate the performance and the results of the educational activities; Such evaluations must be taken into consideration by the University bodies.

Art. 6 – Educational activities and university qualifications

1. UNICAM, also jointly with other public or private entities, organises, coordinates and carries out courses and programs for the achievement of the academic qualifications, as required by law. The University’s educational offer also includes university masters, advanced courses, continuous, permanent and recurring education activities, that may also be carried out through distance learning.

2. The organization of studies, courses and educational activities is governed by the University’s Teaching Regulations. Further criteria and methods of conduct are approved by the departments concerned, within the scope of their respective regulations.

3. The University’s Teaching Regulations govern the management and the methods with which the departments responsible for research and education allocate their resources, Professors / Researchers, to carry out the educational activities. It also regulates the total or partial recognition of successful completion of a course of study, in order to allow for their continuation and the award of academic degrees.

Art. 7 - Quality of the activities carried out and their evaluation

1. UNICAM promotes systematic actions for the evaluation and verification of all its activities (education, research, student services, and administrative management) through a Quality Assurance System.

2. The System is based on self-assessment and external evaluation mechanisms suitable for guaranteeing the continuous improvement of the activities carried out.

3. The System is aimed, in particular, at providing students with education and training programs adapted to the needs of society, at favouring a prompt insertion into the labour market, as well as at removing the critical issues emerging from the surveys conducted also among the students. It also constitutes a tool for modulating the resources to be allocated to the departments, and for activating reward mechanisms that take into account the ensemble of activities required of the teaching / research staff, as well of the technical / administrative staff.

4. To verify the correct management of resources, the productivity of research, the effectiveness and efficiency of educational activities, the impartiality and the efficiency of administrative actions, as well as the adequacy of its actions, the Quality Assurance System makes use of the analyses and guidelines formulated by the University Evaluation Unit.

Art. 8 – Internationalisation and Mobility

1. UNICAM advocates the international dimension of research and educational activities, also through the mobility of all its components, contacts and agreements with academic and scientific institutions around the world, membership in networks and consortia, the exchange of scientific knowledge and educational experiences, the recruitment of students, researchers under training, teacher / researchers from other countries.

2. UNICAM recognises the value of all forms of mobility as an important means for enhancing the scientific knowledge and professional development of its staff at all stages of their career. To this end, it promotes and advocates geographical, intersectoral, inter- and trans-disciplinary mobility, as well as mobility between the public and private sector. In particular, it is committed to promoting international cooperation with the least developed countries, including through student support instruments reserved for undergraduate students and PhD students from such countries.

3. UNICAM takes on and promotes the international character of its research and educational programs, also by means of revision of educational curricula and the widespread use of languages other than Italian. It adopts technological tools apt at promoting the international diffusion of its educational activities.
